

LIEUT. J. F. BROWN KILLED BY A SNIPER

Brooklyn Manual Training
High School Boy Lost Life in Brilliant Work.

SLAIN SAVING BROTHER

Private Heinrich Perishes in Gallant Rescue of His Wounded Relative.

"Killed in what was probably the most brilliant work of this regiment."

That was the message of Lieut.-Col. Frank A. Gleeting of the 202d Engineers to the mother of Lieut. James Finlay Brown, 27 Lincoln place, Brooklyn, after the young officer had been killed in action on November 7, a few days after his transfer from the 307th Infantry to the Engineers Corps.

Lieut. Brown was a graduate of Manual Training High School and the School of Civil Engineering of Cooper Union. He joined the engineers in September, 1917, was transferred to the infantry and again transferred to the engineers. He was killed by a sniper near Autricourt, after surviving the fighting at Chateau Thierry and in the Argonne.

Doscher Killed in Action.

Lieut. Fabian W. Doscher, killed in action, lived with his parents at 295 Palisade street, Brooklyn. He was slain in the fighting of October 11.

Lieut. Harry L. Conway, dead of wounds received at Monks Kemmel on August 24, was member of Company H, Seventy-first Regiment, New York. He served on the Mexican border in 1916, obtained a commission at Camp Wadsworth and went to France with the 105th Infantry. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Mary E. Conway of 3011 Heath avenue.

Lieut. James F. Delaney died from wounds received on September 28. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Delaney, 377 Seventh avenue, and belonged to the machine gun company of the 315th Infantry.

Corporal John E. Kelly, killed in action, tried to enlist at the start of the war, but was rejected. He was accepted in the draft and went to France with the Seventh Regiment. His mother, Mrs. Sarah A. Kelly, lives at 48 West Ninety-fourth street.

Patterson Dies of Wounds.

Private George Patterson, dead of wounds, was shot in the hip on August 4, according to advice received by his sister, Mrs. Johanna Carey, 385 Hudson street. He was a member of the 308th Infantry.

How Alfred Heinrich, a private in the Fifteenth Field Artillery, was saved by his brother, Bernard, who lost his life in the effort, was told in a letter just received by his mother, Mrs. John Heinrich, 350 East Fifty-third street.

Allied was struck by a shrapnel fragment during the battle of Soissons. Bernard, a wagoner in the same company, picked him up and was placing him on a horse tied to a picket when a high explosive shell burst ten feet away, killing Bernard, a Captain, two other soldiers and the horse.

ROBBED SOLDIER'S WIFE.

Nero "Secret Service Man" Got $100 to Deliver Body.

Mrs. Blanch Dolanly, 168 West 24th street, appeared as a complainant before Magistrate Brough in the Washington Heights Court yesterday against Harold Morgan, a negro living in 24 West 135th street, who, she said, had told her that he was a secret service agent and that her husband had been killed in France.

Morgan represented, she testified, that the body had arrived in Hoboken and that he would deliver it to her on payment of $100. He pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny and was held for General Sessions in $1,500 bail.

Artillery Review on Friday.

Gov. Whitman and his staff will review the Thirteenth Coast Artillery Corps in the armory at Summer and Jefferson avenues, Brooklyn, on Friday evening instead of on Saturday, as announced. The Governor was unable to be present on the latter day.
